

The 17 SDGs are blueprint which aim to shape the global economic growth that provides no poverty, equality, prosperity and peace and justice. They address the challenges related to essentials social needs for humanity like education, health, social protection, employment and other services while maintaining the standards for climate and environment.

These goals are going to transform our world through global economic growth to end poverty in all forms everywhere by 2030, fight inequalities and tackle climate change with the efforts from all countries to ensure that no one is left behind.

The United Nations (UN) has set 17 sustainable development goals (SDGs) in 2015/2016 as a strategic plan to help governments around the globe to develop national plans to achieve the agenda 2030 for a sustainable future. These SDGs are somehow fulfilled in a way or another in the 2030 vision of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia (KSA) besides other goals. This paper focuses on the 17 SDGs attainable in the KSA's vision. Each SDG has several strategic objectives or indicators which have target values to be achieved in the 2030 vision. The progress towards these targets are measured quarterly as a percentage of the target values and identify the enforcement of critical adjustments quarterly or annually. The Threshold21-iSDG model developed by the Millennium Institute (MI) has been used to assess the performance for SDG attainments in the KSA's vision. The progress for the 17 SDGs achieved by 2030 are compared for three different scenarios (i.e., business-as-usual (BAU), Vision Realization Programs (VRPs) and an "SDG" with critical adjustments) and they are portrayed on the SDG wheel. The progress attainable using SDG scenario is better compared to other scenarios.

DepEd, PNU seal partnership on professional development of teachers, school leaders

April 30, 2021 – To further support the professional growth of educators, the Department of Education (DepEd) has partnered with the Philippine Normal University (PNU) to provide professional development of teachers, academic supervisors, and school leaders.

In the virtual ceremonial signing of the Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) last April 14, 2021, Education Secretary Leonor Magtolis Briones highlighted that the collaboration with PNU is part of the Department’s commitment to upskill and reskill teachers nationwide.

“It is but appropriate that we finally formalize this friendship, this partnership, this professional exchange of knowledge and ideas as we face the challenges of education,” Sec. Briones said.

Under the MOU, DepEd and PNU will work together in the following areas: pre-service teacher education, teacher education and teaching standards, researches and case studies, in-service continuing professional education of teachers, school leaders, and academic supervisors, and database of education policies.

“The purpose of the understanding is to primarily identify areas of cooperation between DepEd and PNU pursuant to their respective mandates, towards upgrading the professional development of teachers and school leaders,” Undersecretary Nepomuceno Malaluan said.

As one of the areas of cooperation, select DepEd teachers and school leaders will be offered customized graduate degree and diploma programs approved and recognized by the National Educators Academy of the Philippines (NEAP).

As an authorized Learning Service Provider of NEAP, the PNU will offer customized programs called Linking Standards & Quality Practice (LiSQuP), a two-year assistance to DepEd to develop and deliver differentiated and standards-based professional development programs with focus on making quality practice common practice among education personnel.

LiSQuP will have 12 Master's Degree Programs in various specializations, 8 Doctorate Programs in various specializations, and two Executive Programs, and at least 2,800 teachers, school heads, and supervisors will benefit in the initial run of the program.

“This shows that PNU, as the national center for teacher education, is committed to wholeheartedly uphold its mission to nurturing innovative teachers and education leaders in our schools and safeguarding the quality of education in the country,” PNU President Dr. Bert J. Tuga said.
